I CHOOSE

A NEW LIFE PERSPECTIVE FROM A PLACE OF CARING.

Sometimes when you're healthy, you forget to appreciate the small things in life - you take everything for granted. And then when something like cancer happens, you start appreciating life more. During my treatment for breast cancer, I found so many angels, so much goodness in people at Orlando Health. For me, Orlando Health UF Health Cancer has been the best place.

See my story, and download your breast self-exam sheet at.
