

CHARLOTTE HEALTHCARE PROFILES

Located in the Piedmont, Charlotte is the most populous city in North Carolina. With destinations and locations varying from Carowinds to Mountain Island Lake to Lake Norman, Charlotte offers many neighborhoods in which to live, and Liberty Senior Living offers two distinctive communities for older adults in the area. Whether looking for retirement living for yourself or looking for a loved one, you can choose one of two locations: Brightmore of South Charlotte, located in the Ballantyne area, or The Barclay at SouthPark, located in the SouthPark area of Charlotte.

From stately houses surrounded by lovely lawns and gardens to its signature shopping and dining, SouthPark is a highly sought-after destination for those who enjoy the finer things in life. Now, a remarkable new retirement community—The Barclay at SouthPark—is joining the scene, bringing luxury residences, premier services, and unparalleled amenities to a population seeking to thrive in retirement. The Barclay at SouthPark, located in the heart of Charlotte, delivers an upscale, urban feel and convenience to anyone desiring connectivity and walkability in their day-to-day routines. In addition to such conveniences as underground parking and outdoor living spaces, the 165-apartment community will also feature a day spa, fitness center, coffee shop, and three separate and unique dining venues, each delivering distinctive and delectable options to suit any mood.

“What we’re most proud of are the life enrichment opportunities available to our The Barclay at SouthPark residents,” says Thomas Senger, marketing director. “Our programming is designed to complement all areas of wellness. Beyond that, we’re here to help residents enjoy all that The Barclay at SouthPark lifestyle has to offer.”

For those who wish to escape the congestion of downtown Charlotte, Brightmore of South Charlotte offers a similar atmosphere and lifestyle within its 148 luxury apartments. Each apartment boasts upscale finishes, several of which can be customized to personal taste. For the convenience of residents and their guests, Brightmore resides in the Ballantyne area, close to retail shopping and a variety of eateries in thriving south Charlotte.

“Our focus is on the community’s active residents and their desires,” says Brigitte Rinaldi, marketing director. “The move into independent living can be challenging, so we’re committed to making that transition as painless as possible. As a result, we’re seeing many embracing this turnkey lifestyle at younger ages.”

An emphasis on wellness is a distinguishing factor for Brightmore of South Charlotte. Health and fitness options include an indoor saltwater pool, group fitness classroom, and weight room; the services of a personal trainer are included in the community’s monthly fee. Additional amenities, including three dining venues, transportation services, and social activities, help make Brightmore a community in which anyone can live independently and do what they love.
