

Jill doesn't let
her congenital
heart defect stop
her from doing
what she loves.

Jill loves working with young heart patients at UW Health's pediatric cardiology clinic at American Family Children's Hospital, especially those with the same condition she has.

Nearly 1 in 100 children are born with a congenital heart defect, like Jill's. She relies on UW Health's nationally ranked heart care program to understand her options during every stage of her life – from annual check-ups to complex surgery.

Learn more about UW Health's heart care in Madison, Wisconsin:

uwhealth.org/congenitalheart

UWHealth