You Are Beautiful & Worth Fighting For!

Located in the heart of North Carolina, Carolina House offers gender-inclusive residential, partial hospitalization, and intensive outpatient eating disorder treatment.

Through our approach to care, we strive to honor and value every aspect of our clients' lives, including their families, communities, cultures, value systems, spiritual traditions, and integration within the larger world. We form relationships with our clients that are founded on dignity and respect, always with an understanding of and an appreciation for the role an eating disorder has played in their lives.

*"While I was stuck in my eating disorder, I felt lost and insecure. Carolina House helped me regain control of my life and I couldn't be happier."
